America Will Refuse the Austrian Proposal For a Peace Conference

ALL NEW YORK PAPERS WITH ONE EXCEPTION SPURN AUSTRIAN NOTE

New York, Sept. 16.—The New York Times in an editorial today urged that the allies accept the Austrian proposal for an "unbinding discussion," looking toward peace. The newspaper, however, declared peace conditions must throttle German militarism and insure that there be no repetition of the war.

Pointing out that the peace offer comes from the quarter, which for three years the allies have felt it would come, the Times said, "it comes in a form which the allies may honorably accept in the confident belief that it will lead to the end of the war."

"The custom and practice of nations," the editorial continued, "demand that this invitation to enter upon the preliminaries of peace receive the most serious and respectful attention of the governments to which it is addressed."

Other New York papers declared the proposals must be spurned as they now stand.

"No one but German or a vessel

REPLY TO PEACE PROPOSAL WILL NOT BE HASTY

ECONOMY MUST BE PRACTICED MORE GENERALLY

Washington, Sept. 16.—The federal reserve board, renewing its plea for wiser utilization of resources, today called upon the nation to consume $24,000,000,000 less than it produces next year, and thus pay the year's cost.

This means that America must save $6,000,000,000 more in the next twelve months than it did in the last year.

Only two alternatives present themselves through which the nation will be able to "make ends meet," the board pointed out. Either there must be more intense production or a decidedly increased economy in consumption.

While "speed up" has been the government's watchword, the warning has been issued that the nation must look to more economy for any increase in the available financial resources.

Delving deeper into the economic phases of the country's problem, than ever before the federal reserve board says that upon the application of fiscal and financial measures during the coming year, depends largely the extent to which the tax payers and consumer willing to make their resources the resources of their government.

According to the best available information the reply will come only after the most intimate exchange of opinions between the entente and American governments.

Meanwhile official opinion will be held pending this discussion, which diplomats declare will be the "most delicate" question of policy since the declaration of war.

Unofficial opinion is divided "stalwarts" believing the proposal merely a super-peace offensive, acceptance of which will be to trap the allies.

Germany's note to Belgium is another Brest-Litovsk scheme is the way British newspapers view the situation.

The Chronicle says: "Two motives inspire the note—first the desire to embarrass the entente by throwing upon them the odium of continuing the war. Second, a genuine longing for peace. Berlin and Vienna now realize for the first time that the central powers cannot win the war. Instead they are fearful with the dread of defeat and disaster. No one wants to continue the war a day longer than necessary but the entente are not going to be fooled with an unreal peace. It would be foolish to expect good results from a conference until Berlin and Vienna change their methods of negotiations. In Wilson's language, 'no general peace, no peace worth the infinite sacrifices of three years' of tragical suffering' can be arrived at under the old method of barter and concession."

The Times: Germany is employing Austria to sham peace proposals and cover up her efforts to gain time while Hindenburg organizes his forces. It is one of the oldest and stalest tricks of diplomacy. What the central empires really hope for its repetition of proposal so that they may again present to their disheartened peoples, their reasons for continuing the war. They also hope to break the entente's solid front

TWO AVIATORS ARE KILLED IN BROOKLYN

New York, Sept. 16.—Lieutenants Kenny, Covington, Ky., and E. H. Austin, Boston, U. S. A., were killed in Brooklyn today when the airplane in which they were flying over the city, fell and was smashed on the lawn adjoining a house on Ocean Avenue. Both men were dead when a physician living nearby was called.

HOIST OLD GLORY.

Paris, September 16.—From the top of the city hall the Stars and Stripes fluttered all day, having been hoisted by special order of the Municipal Council, in celebration of the American St. Mihiel victory.

A resolution adopted by the General Council of the Department of Seine says:

"The American democracy's invincible army triumphantly pursues the place of honor reserved for it."

METZ UNDER LONG RANGE BOMBARDMENT

London, Sept. 16.—The Germans apparently are withdrawing along the whole 33 miles front between Abecourt and the Moselle, in an effort to improve the protection of communications in the vicinity of Metz.

The Americans advanced from two to three miles on this front and in some places their patrols pushed forward an additional two miles.

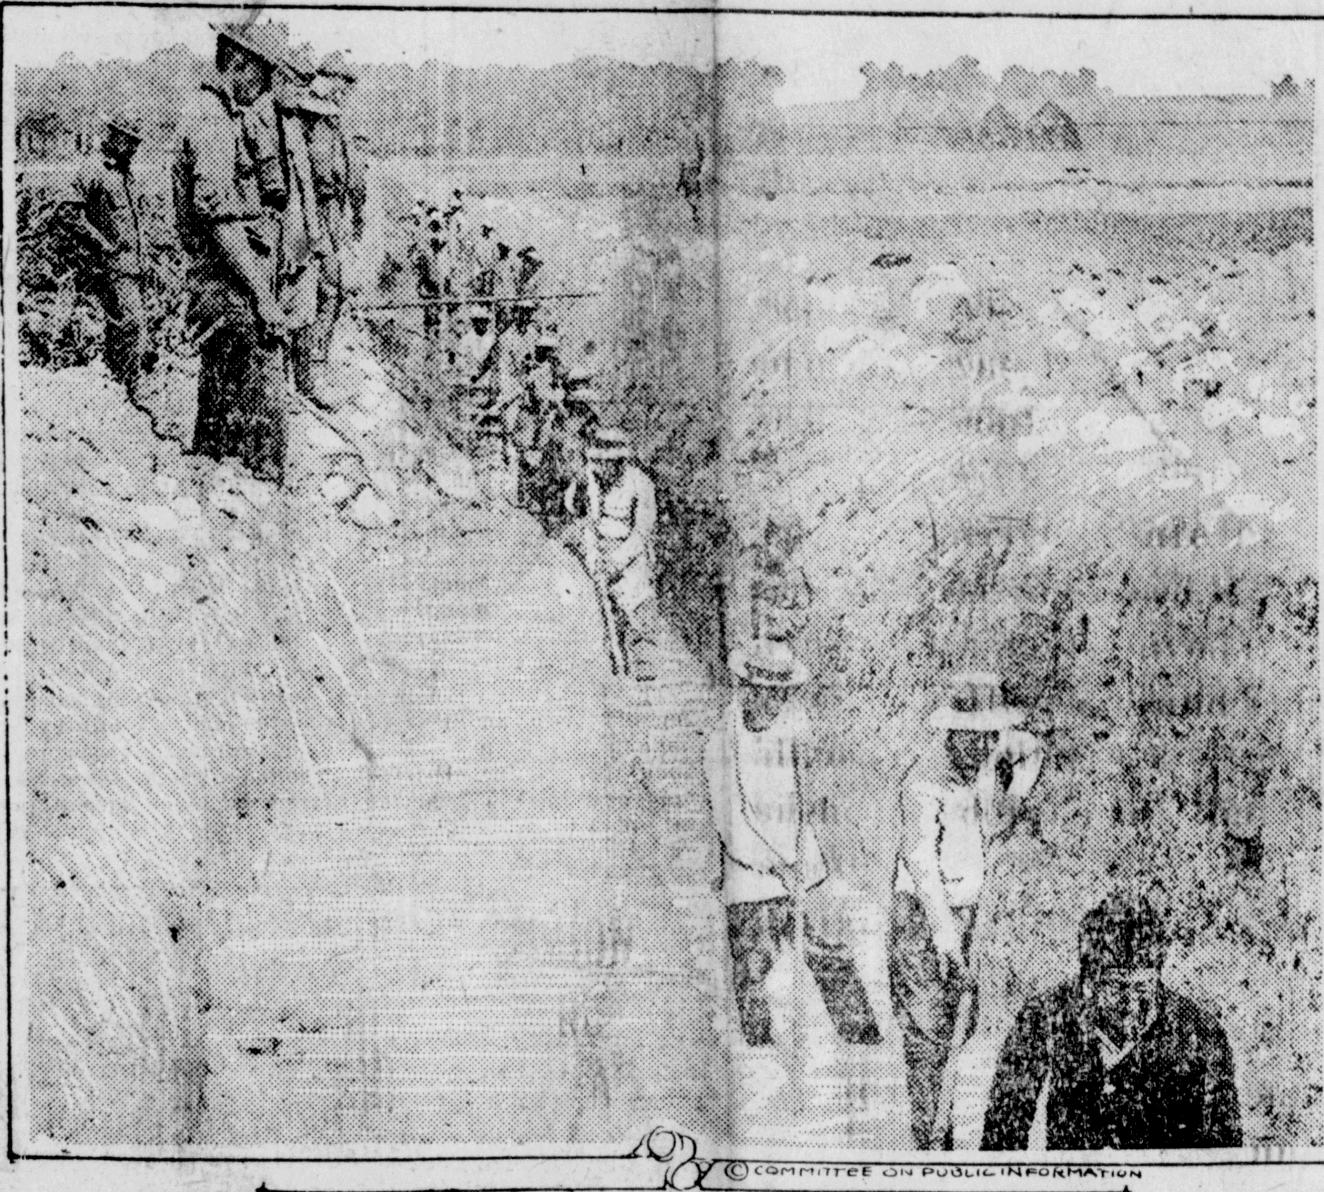

Six German divisions totalling about sixty thousand men, were operating in the St. Mihiel salient when the Americans began their attack, it has been learned. Of these fully a fourth were taken prisoner.

The British have captured Maisemey (four and a half miles northwest of St. Quentin), thus wiping out a small salient which had its apex at Vermand.

In their recent local operations, the French have taken 2,500 prisoners.

Metz is under long range bombardment, it is learned here today. Metz is about ten miles from the nearest known front of the Americans.

CHINESE ARE DOING THEIR BIT TO BEAT THE GERMANS

Chinese laborers in France. China is contributing her bit in the war against the Hohenzollern crowd. China and Japan have agreed to unite if necessary. Their armed forces to repel Bolsheviks or German uprisings in the east. Chinese laborers are employed behind the battle lines in France.

THINK PEACE NOTE WILL STRENGTHEN ALLEGED PACIFISTS

Amsterdam, Sept. 16.—There is wide comment in the German press regarding Austria's peace efforts. The consensus of belief seems to be that the hands of the entente pacifists will be strengthened.

Berlin newspapers do not believe the proposal offers any practical possibilities, contenting themselves with declaring "the world at large will know now who prolongs the war and who wants to give the world peace."

SECRETARY BAKER IS RADIANT OVER VICTORY

Paris, September 16.—Secretary of War Baker has returned from the front radiant over the victory achieved by the American arms in the offensive, whose start he saw.

"General Pershing's announcement will cover the military situation," said Mr. Baker. "The American people will be overjoyed that their army, in co-operation with the allies, has been able to achieve so striking a success.

It is a particularly happy circumstance that the victory delivers from the invader territory he had acquired for four years and restores to freedom civilians who had been captives.

Their rejoicing knew no bounds in St. Mihiel. As we passed up the roads we found them blocked with refugees and with war material captured by our soldiers.

The consequences of the action against the Germans fully justify the hope of the great nations whose armies were engaged."

With the Americans on the Metz Front, Sept. 16.—Both American wings are reported to be straightening out and co-ordinating their positions across the late St. Mihiel salient. Our patrols now control the area between the American lines and the Hindenburg reserve defenses.

The Germans are digging in far to the rear, rather than attempting to dispute the American gains effectively.

With the Americans on the Metz Front, Sept. 16.—The extremities of the new line, paralleling Hindenburg's are experiencing the bulk of the present activity. To the left of the Moselle, the boche attempted a raid Saturday night, as a result of which the Americans took six prisoners.

Late yesterday afternoon the enemy made a counter-attack in the same region.

They were seen massing for the effort. The American artillery opened on them. They were cut to pieces before they could start.

The boche is doing considerable work in the rear of the Hindenburg line.

The operations in the past 24 hours, though small, have resulted in additional prisoners and material.

While there is a comparative lull on the ground, aside from artillery firing, the battle in the air is becoming constantly more bitter. The boche airmen are being reinforced and are becoming more daring. Although some have succeeded in crossing the allied line, not an enemy plane has been able to proceed more than five kilometers (about three miles) behind the line.

A great number of German machines were brought down in aerial battles yesterday. The enemy's observation balloons are also being constantly attacked and many have been destroyed.

British, Italian and American bombing planes are busy in the rear areas, day and night.

Premier Clemenceau visited American headquarters yesterday and congratulated the staff.

In spite of the fact that the enemy burned large stores, examination of the battlefield shows that great quantities of ammunition, telegraph and railroad material, rolling-stock, clothing, and equipment, and abandoned bridges in the reconquered territory are uninjured.

Airplane reconnaissance patrols report that the Hindenburg line appears to be in poor condition.

GERMANS DIG IN FAR IN THE REAR

TWENTY THOUSAND MINERS ON STRIKE

Pottsville, Pa., Sept. 16.—In the face of the order and importunities of the mine workers union about twenty thousand miners in the ninth district went on a strike this morning because the government has not granted them an increase in wages that they demanded.

Clergymen, business men and others pleaded with the men yesterday to patriotically remain at work.

President Matthews of the United Mine Workers labored until last night, trying to keep the men in line. The strike cuts off a daily production of about 200,000 tons.

STATE BOARD OF HEALTH ASKED TO SEND EXPERT HERE

Dr. R. H. Grube wrote to the State Board of Health Monday morning asking that an expert be sent to this city to investigate the source of the typhoid fever epidemic which has developed to an alarming degree in a little more than two weeks.

A meeting of Xenia physicians was held at the office of Dr. W. A. Galloping Sunday evening for the purpose of discussing the typhoid situation, and at this meeting twenty-five cases of the malady were reported by the various doctors.

As it has been impossible to trace the infection to any one milk supply or to the water supply, the doctors decided to request Health Officer Grube to call in the aid of the State Board of Health to determine if possible the cause of the infection. Dr. Grube was out of the city and could not be present at the meeting, but he communicated with the State department as soon as the action of the doctors was reported to him.

The typhoid epidemic is steadily growing, and cases have been reported from different parts of the city, although the greater number of cases are confined to Second and Third streets. With blood flowing from a scalp wound in his forehead, H. E. Strain of South Detroit street, engineer at the Ohio mill of The Hoover and Allison company, was found unconscious on the cement floor of the motor engine room at the mill about 11 o'clock Sunday forenoon.

Dr. Espy found him to be suffering from concussion and a partial paralysis of the right leg. He is unable to say yet how serious the injury may be.

Dr. Strain was taken to his home on South Detroit street and while he has regained consciousness, no details of the accident have been recalled by him. He has a dim recollection of having placed the ladder in position so that he could get near the top of the motor.

The Ohio War Board Says Today

The most patriotic thing that anyone can do right now is to use at most only two pounds of sugar a month and less if possible. Use as much as desired of honey, syrups, sorghum, molasses, maple products, dried and fresh.

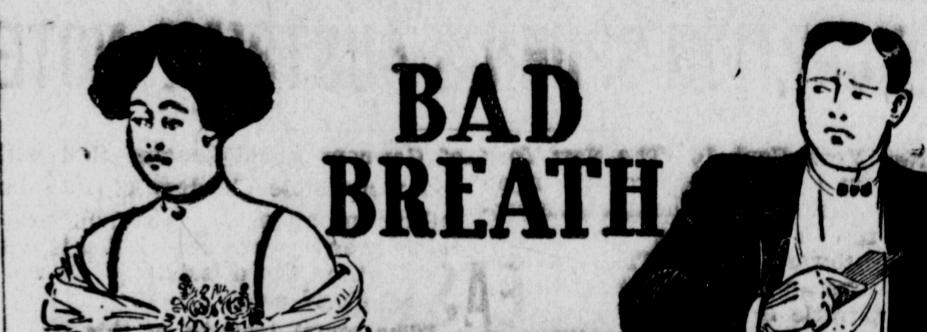

A limited amount of sugar will be allowed the housewife for canning.

Surplus fruits and vegetables should be preserved in some manner. Canning, drying, fermentation processes, are all to be encouraged. Fruit may be canned without sugar. Fruit juices may be bottled and saved for jelly-making until sugar is more plentiful. Other sweeteners besides sugar may be used in canning, jelly and jam making.

The Branch House Man

This is one of the Swift & Company Branch House Men.

They are all pretty much alike in the way they feel toward their work—and that is what this ad is about.

They know that most people couldn't get such good meat promptly and in good condition if it weren't for the branch houses of which they are in charge.

They know that the branch house is one of the most important links in the chain of preparing and distributing meat for a nation.

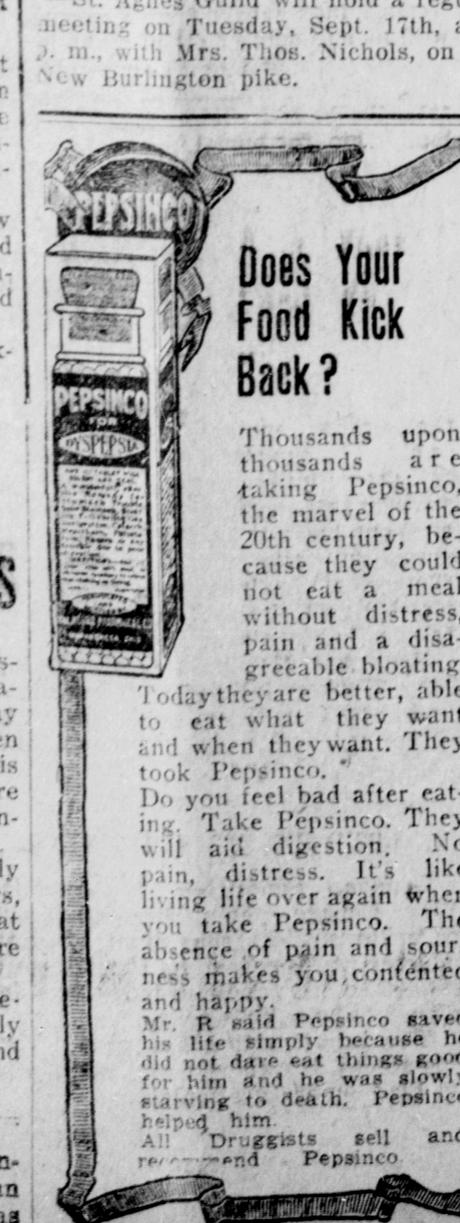

They know that Swift & Company must have its branch houses run at the highest notch of usefulness; that even a Swift & Company branch house won't run itself, and that it is up to the branch house man to run it properly.

Any branch house man who doesn't see his work in this light is transferred to some other place with Swift & Company to which he is better adapted.

They are picked men, these branch house men. Every time you sit down to a steak or chop, or cut of roast, you can give a grateful thought to the whole crew of them.

And remember, in a general way, that everything that makes life smoother and more convenient for you is the result of the thoughtfulness and effort of a lot of people of whom you have never heard.

THE MAKING OF A FAMOUS MEDICINE

How Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Is Prepared For Woman's Use.

A visit to the laboratory where this successful remedy is made impresses even the casual looker-on with the reliability, accuracy, skill and cleanliness which attends the making of this great medicine for woman's ills.

Over 350,000 pounds of various herbs are used annually and all have to be gathered at the season of the year when their natural juices and medicinal substances are at their best.

The most successful solvents are used to extract the medicinal properties from these herbs.

Every utensil and tank that comes in contact with the medicine is sterilized and as a final precaution in cleanliness the medicine is pasteurized and sealed in sterile bottles.

It is the wonderful combination of roots and herbs, together with the skill and care used in its preparation which has made this famous medicine so successful in the treatment of female ills.

The letters from women who have been restored to health by the use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound which we are continually publishing attest to its virtue.

GREAT VICTORY BY OUR AMERICAN BOYS.

For four years the Huns had things pretty nearly all their own way. They had been preparing for this war for a whole generation and they could strike with a power which represented a well nigh irresistible accumulated energy.

The wonder is that their neighbors, who were very ill prepared, could hold them as well as they did for four years. A little more and they would have won the war. Kaiserism would have survived if the nations that were attacked had not risen in righteous indignation and determined to repel the Hun menace. The Lord helps those who help themselves. The world would have deserved all it got if it had yielded to the supine pacifist doctrine and allowed the Huns to carry out their schemes of conquest and subjugation.

But now the Allies are asserting their latent power. The tide has turned. This is the Allies' year, and if we continue to "carry on" as the war phase is, we are going to win a victory that will pay for and justify all the loss and suffering that has been imposed on humanity by this diabolical Hun plot.

The history of the war from July 15 is one splendid "continued story" of practically uninterrupted successes for the Allies, not only on the French front but on the war front as a whole. The Huns are still continuing their retreat, which one of their leading experts characterizes in the Berlin Tagblatt as a "strategic masterpiece that commands admiration." However, if the situation suits the Huns, it suits the Allies better, and "cursed be the who first cries hold enough."

The total net results of the victories which began with July 15th will perhaps not be compiled till the complete history of the war comes to be written in later years. In August the British took over 57,000 prisoners, and the French in six weeks from July 15 took 76,000. Up to September 1st, a total of about 140,000 prisoners had been counted.

Of course the great victory of the Americans under General Pershing, in the last few days, has thrilled the people of this country as nothing else had done since the war began. In all the other battles we won only hyphenated with the French or English, but in the great battles of Thursday and Friday last, in clearing the St. Mihiel salient, the Americans appear to have been going it alone, and they certainly "went over the top." On the second day of their great offensive on the Lorraine front the Americans succeeded in blotting out German positions that had been a menace for four years. This salient was one of the strongest and most vital points on the whole front—the Germans had been fortifying it for years.

In less than thirty-six hours, General Pershing's first American Army had wiped out the entire St. Mihiel salient, had advanced thirteen miles, 155 square miles of territory, had taken over twenty thousand prisoners and 100 big guns. In addition, this advance opened the important railway from Verdun. All the villages in the St. Mihiel salient were captured by the Americans, and the front of the sector reduced from 40 to 20 miles. One dispatch says: "Along one of the high roads in the rear of our new front north of St. Mihiel we passed three miles of German prisoners under American guards, striding rearward four abreast. French auxiliary workers behind the line stopped in their labors and lined up along the roadside cheering the Americans."

Every American entering the villages experienced the same reception as that given to Secretary of War Baker. Aged men and women seized and kissed the hands of the officers and correspondents, crying and laughing, the children imitating their elders.

All the London papers give unstinted praise to the Americans for their great victory over the Huns. The Times said: "For all the Allied nations the deep interest in the American victory lies not so much in its results, which are substantial and valuable, but in the fact that a great American force has gone into battle acting separately. The German nation now will begin to realize, as it never yet has done, the overwhelming and decisive character of the new factor which is emerging in the war. More was destroyed at St. Mihiel than a German salient. General Pershing shattered at a blow the monstrous web of lies which sustained the pretense that the immense weight and almost unlimited resources of the United States would be of little or no account on the European field of war. He has shown that the Americans are as quick and apt to learn the art of war as they have been to develop the pursuits of peace."

This last drive brings "our boys" within ten miles of the fortified city of Metz, on German Lorraine, (stolen from France thirty years ago.) Now the prospect is that if the Allies keep "carrying on," as they have been lately, that we will soon be on Germany's own soil, devastating it, and giving them a taste of what they have so ruthlessly given Belgium and France.

For the recent victory for Liberty by the Americans let us fervently "praise God from whom all blessings flow."

'THE WIFE'

BY JANE PHELPS

RUTH IS DISTURBED BECAUSE OF MRS. CURTIS'S CHATTER

CHAPTER XXXVII.

Ruth's luncheon with Mrs. Curtis had a very upsetting effect upon her. All the afternoon her careless remarks recurred, making Ruth rather absent minded; so much so that La Monte wondered if her husband had been unpleasant because of her absence. For, while not at all intending to do so, Ruth had given both Mr. Mandel and his clerk an impression that Brian objected to her being in the shop.

So it was known and talked of, already—she thought bitterly.

Ruth wished that Brian hadn't taken Mollie to dinner. Of course she couldn't say so, couldn't object to what he did when she was away. But it was rather disconcerting to be told of how intimate he used to be with this Mollie King. Ruth had to own to herself that Mollie was attractive. "Fascinating" Mrs. Curtis had called her. She would watch Brian closely if Mrs. Curtis did give dinner and asked them. She would also watch Mollie King.

"A penny for your thoughts, Mrs. Hackett!" Mr. Mandel stood at her elbow, smiling down on her. "I have stood here for ten minutes, and you haven't moved a muscle."

"Oh, excuse me, Mr. Mandel!" Ruth flushed with embarrassment as she took the papers he had brought her, plans he had brought her, plans for the redecoration of the Philadelphia house.

Thinking of that new apartment you told me you were going to take he asked with a quizzical smile.

"No—but I really am going to move, and I haven't half thanked you for the lovely things you said I might have to help make it attractive," she returned with more fulsome ness in her manner than she usually displayed. She had been glad he spoke of the apartment, that he had said no more about what she was thinking. She was not accustomed to hiding her feelings. She must learn to do so, or else to concentrate on her work that even what Brian had done, or might do, could not take her thoughts from it.

Mr. Mandel said no more, save about the work in hand. For half an hour they discussed the lovely old house they were to "make over inside," as he expressed it; and when he left her with the plans nearly ready for her to work up the color scheme, Ruth really had forgotten all about what Mrs. Curtis had said—had even forgotten there was such a person as Mollie King.

But she recalled her again at dinner when she told Brian of meeting Mrs. Curtis.

"She is going to ask us to dinner, and she also said she was going to ask that nice Miss King you took out to dinner while I was away. I told her we would be glad to come. I hope I am rather jolly people, and they also did right."

"Of course we'll go! The Curtises have a very good cook. Curtis is pretty well fixed," he added, flushing a little as he always did when money was the subject.

Ruth started to repeat what Mrs. Curtis had said concerning the woman who worked, and a husband's attitude because of it; then caught herself. Brian was already more than a little sensitive on the subject. It

SCHOOLS ORGANIZE TO SELL STAMPS

County Supt. F. M. Reynolds reports that the county schools are just getting organized for the autumn drive on Thrift Stamp sales. He says he will be able to furnish a complete report of the sales through the schools of the county by the close of next week.

Prof. Reynolds says:

"Every teacher in the county is requested to get the work going at once and make a report to her District or Local Superintendent on next Friday evening. This report should show the total sales to date that is both for last year and this."

The Ross Township Centralized School was the first system of schools in the county to report 100 per cent efficiency in this work. Great credit is due Supt. M. Jay Ellis and his corps of teachers for putting this across as they have. Each pupil in that system of schools owns a card with one or more stamps in it. Each pupil and teacher in the high school owns a card with five or more stamps in it. The Grammar room of this school, taught by Loren Rogers, reached the 100 per cent limit about a week ago.

"College Hill school in Silvercreek township, taught by H. R. Zartman, was the first one roomed rural school to report 100 per cent efficiency. Many others are very close to it."

The Superintendents and teachers of the county have set October 10, as the limit at which they hope to have all the schools of the county 100 per cent efficient. This means hard work and the hearty co-operation of the parents in this patriotic work."

Had she been able to diagnose Brian's feeling toward her when she realized she could earn more than he ever had been paid, she would perhaps have been surprised. That he for a moment felt, really felt, she was little him to the extent he considered she was, she never dreamed; had she known, it is doubtful if she would have understood.

OPENING EXERCISES AT ANTIOTH TO BE OF PATRIOTIC NATURE

The opening of Antioch College's fall term, Wednesday, September 18, will be of a patriotic nature, in harmony with the new military program of the school.

Flag raising exercises will be held Wednesday morning, beginning at 10:00 o'clock, and will be followed by a community dinner on the campus.

Dr. Hough Houston, pastor of the Central Methodist Church, Springfield, will deliver the principal address and Gen. Keifer, formerly a student at Antioch, and later a member of the Board of Trustees, will talk.

A sixteen-piece military band from the Aviation Supply Depot at Fairfield, will furnish appropriate music, and it is probable that they will be accompanied by a detachment of soldiers from that camp.

The ladies of Yellow Springs have arranged to have the soldiers and the prospective members of the Student Army Training Corps as their guests at the community dinner on the campus. A general invitation is extended to bring lunch baskets and attend the opening exercises and the picnic which will follow.

Although enrollment does not generally take place until after the opening of the scholastic year, many young men have already signified their intention of taking advantage of the unusual opportunities afforded by the Student Army Training Corps.

Antioch's equipment affords an ideal spot to train the young soldiers who will be voluntarily inducted into the Corps. With no expense, and the regular compensation of a soldier in the service of the nation, any one who can pass the physical and mental requirements has the opportunity to go to college at government expense.

A portion of the soldier's time is to be given to college work and the remainder to the regular duties of a soldier. Men must pass army physical requirements and must have a high school education or its equal.

Speaking of The Student Army Training Corps, the new military branch of the college, Dr. George D. Black, President of Antioch says:

"The government is urgent that young men should go to college, and get as much work done as is possible before they are called into active service."

"One especial purpose of this utilization of the college is to find men who are fit to be officers and technicians, to find men who are qualified by education and training to make a virile, aggressive man power. "This movement is a mighty one and should receive the support of all patriots. It is a call to the colleges to put their strength into the equipment of a man power that will crush, or help crush, the wickedest conspiracy that ever was aimed against humanity."

"We must remember that the supreme interest in this movement in the colleges is the need of the nation. It is to build up a mighty army."

Enrollment in the Training Corps will begin Wednesday and induction into the service will take place the latter part of this month. Officers and equipment will be supplied to the college October 1st.

FESS SOUNDS WARNING AGAINST GERMAN PEACE

Warning against a peace that will leave Germany's military machine intact was voiced in the House, Saturday, by Representative Fess, of Ohio, Republican, who declared "we must not stop until Germany takes her heel off the liberties of the world, wherever it is."

The kindness of the American heart is to be feared, he said, adding that his words were "without criticism of anyone."

"Four peace proposals have been made by the Central Powers in the last four weeks," said Mr. Fess. "Germany, I fear, seeing her borders about to be invaded and to save herself from internal revolution, will throw herself on the mercy of the allies. My fear is that we, in our desire for fairness and out of kindness of heart, might be willing to accept a condition that will not reduce this autocracy."

Old Story Disproved.

Most persons know the story told of Cleopatra, to illustrate her luxurious habits of living, that she dissolved in her wine a precious pearl. No one seems yet to have questioned what must have been the effect upon the drink, but scientists scoff at the possibility of such solution. The fact is pearls are not soluble in wine. The most powerful vinegar affects them slowly and never entirely dissolves them, for the organic matter remains behind in the shape of a spongy mass that is larger than the original pearl.

I just suffered everything. Nothing agreed with me at all. A few minutes after eating I had pain, sourness and as a rule would belch bad tasting stuff.

I tried doctors; I tried medicines; all without effect. Pepsinco was recommended. I honestly believe that I can thank Pepsinco for my good health-to-day.

I can eat anything and I am without pain. I would suggest that if there is anything wrong with your stomach, that you go to any drug store and get a small package of Pepsinco.

The above is a testimonial from a person who followed the advice of a friend. Suppose you do the same.

FOLKS AT HOME TO HAVE CHANCE TO PROVE LOYALTY

Every day the newspapers tell of some one or another of the Yanks having been awarded the cross of war for conspicuous bravery in action. Every day these same dispatches carry the story of some intrepid charge against the enemy trenches, the storming of some machine gun nest, the taking of another town or two in desperate hand to hand fighting. And our hearts swell with pride that it is so.

Equally appropriate of their prowess are the allied leaders. "You have shown yourself to be worthy sons of your great country and have gained the admiration of your brothers in arms," declared General Mangin the other day in an official order thanking the Yanks for their part in the last great thrust against the Huns.

General Mangin voiced the sentiments of the entire membership of the allied general staff. For the Yanks have made good with a vengeance.

We are wholly justified in being proud of them. We can look the whole world in the eye, knowing they rank with the finest. We can justly feel again that the traditions of American arms have been upheld; that in the eyes of the world America no longer stands accused of pacifism at the cost of honor; of meek submission to the ruthless arrogance of any people drunk with power.

Once more, we may hold up our hands, square our shoulders, take a reef in our trousers and intimate to the world at large that it's a dangerous pastime to tread upon the tail of our coat.

Thanks to the khaki clad Yanks.

And shortly we are to have an opportunity to prove just how much we value our new-found standing in the eyes of the world. To repay, indirectly, these restorers of our national self-respect.

OSBORN GIRL BECOMES BRIDE OF LIEUTENANT ROSWELL C. PUCKETT

Culminating a romance which commenced two years ago when the bride was teaching in the Iowa State University at Iowa City, was the marriage of Lieutenant Roswell C. Puckett, of Wilbur Wright field, and Miss Catherine Creamer, daughter of Mrs. L. F. Creamer, of Osborn, which took place at the Creamer home at eight o'clock Saturday evening.

When Lieutenant Puckett, whose home is in Berkley, Cal., was transferred to the Fairfield flying field five months ago, the friendship of himself and Miss Creamer was renewed and Lieutenant Puckett was a frequent guest at the Creamer home, while Miss Catherine was in New York, where she recently completed a six months' special course in Columbia University.

The marriage was very simply celebrated, with the Rev. A. L. Lorimer, of Wittenberg college, acting pastor of the Osborn Lutheran church, officiating. Near relatives and a few friends of the bride and fellow officers of Lieutenant Puckett from Wright field, were present.

The bridal pair was unattended. The bride wore a frock of pink georgette crepe, and carried white rose buds. The double ring service was performed. Asters and golden rod decked the rooms. Following the service supper was served to the party of eighteen. Lieutenant and Mrs. Puckett will live in Osborn while the former is at Wright field.

The only guests from away attending the wedding were the bride's brother, J. B. Creamer, of New York City; John Wilce, of Columbus, and Miss Marjorie Beard, of Springfield.

Lieutenant Puckett who spent two years in the Philippines, was taking a post graduate course at the University of Iowa when he met his bride, who was a member of the faculty. Mrs. Puckett is a graduate of Ohio State University, and specialized in the household economics department.

America Will Refuse the Austrian Proposal For a Peace Conference

ALL NEW YORK PAPERS WITH ONE EXCEPTION SPURN AUSTRIAN NOTE

New York, Sept. 16.—The New York Times in an editorial today urged that the allies accept the Austrian proposal for an "unbinding" discussion, looking toward peace. The newspaper, however, declared peace conditions must throttle German militarism and insure that there be no repetition of the war.

Pointing out that the peace offer comes from the quarter which for three years the allies have felt it would come, the Times said, "it comes in a form which the allies may honorably accept in the confident belief that it will lead to the end of the war."

"The custom and practice of nations," the editorial continued, "demand that this invitation to enter upon the preliminaries of peace receive the most serious and respectful attention of the governments to which it is addressed."

Other New York papers declared the proposals must be spurned as they now stand.

"No one but a German or a vessel of Germany could imagine that with the responsible leaders of Prussian militarism, almost as false and boastful as ever, a peace negotiation is possible," the World said.

The World said.

"The awful tragedy of this war is not to be thus adjusted. No lie is to come triumphant from the field where so many brave men have perished."

The Tribune asked: "Do we believe what we say about this German thing—that it is frightful beyond redemption, that it has no faith to pledge, that it has betrayed the very principles of civilization, that it cannot be lived with, and that it must be utterly destroyed?" and then pointed to the crimes which have been committed.

"Germany has lost the war," it continued. "The peace offensive is now her most dangerous weapon. Let it break itself upon the text 'He that leadeth into captivity shall go into captivity; he that killeth with the sword must be killed with the sword.'"

"China is contributing her bit in the war against the Hohenzollern crowd. China and Japan have agreed to unite if necessary, their armed forces to repel Bolsheviks or German uprisings in the east. Chinese laborers are employed behind the battle lines in France.

REPLY TO PEACE PROPOSAL WILL NOT BE HASTY

By Ed. L. Keen.

London, Sept. 16.—There will be no hasty reply to the Austrian peace proposal.

According to the best available information the reply will come only after the most intimate exchange of opinions between the entente and American governments.

Meanwhile official opinion will be held pending this decision, which diplomats declare will be the "most delicate" question of policy since the declaration of war.

Official opinion is divided "stalwarts" believing the proposal merely a super-peace offensive, acceptance of which will be to trap the allies.

Germany's note to Belgium is another Brest-Litovsk scheme is the way British newspapers view the situation.

The Chronicle says: "Two motives inspire the note—first the desire to embarrass the entente by throwing upon them the odium of continuing the war. Second, a genuine longing for peace. Berlin and Vienna now realize for the first time that the central powers cannot win the war. Instead they are fearful with the dread of defeat and disaster. No one wants to continue the war a day longer than necessary but the entente are not going to be fooled with an unreal peace. It would be foolish to expect good results from a conference until Berlin and Vienna change their methods of negotiations. In Wilson's language, 'no general peace, no peace worth the infinite sacrifices of three years' of tragical suffering' can be arrived at under the old method of barter and concession."

The Times: Germany is employing Austria to sham peace proposals and cover up her efforts to gain time while Hindenburg organizes his forces. It is one of the oldest and stalest tricks of diplomacy. What the central empires really hope for its repetition of proposal so that they may again present to their disheartened peoples, their reasons for continuing the war. They also hope to break the entente's solid front

Delving deeper into the economic phases of the country's problem, than ever before the federal reserve board says that upon the application of fiscal and financial measures during the coming year, depends largely the extent to which the tax payers and consumer willing to make their resources the resources of their government. Only through a "genuine process of saving, can the government be made secure in the financial program it has outlined, it is asserted.

At a time when less capital is available for new investment, the need is most pressing for concentration of efforts on the part of the solidly founded industries, the board says.

Progress has been made in the curtailment of non-essential credit, the board reports. There is, however, certain elements which have refused to subordinate their private interests to those of the nation. These must be whipped into line if that arm of the nation's resources is to become entirely free for war uses, the government says.

SECRETARY BAKER IS RADIANT OVER VICTORY

Paris, September 16.—Secretary of War Baker has returned from the front radiant over the victory achieved by the American arms in the offensive, whose start he saw.

"General Pershing's announcement will cover the military situation," said Mr. Baker. "The American people will be overjoyed that their army, in co-operation with the allies, has been able to achieve so striking a success.

It is a particularly happy circumstance that the victory delivers from the invaded territory he had acquired for four years and restores to freedom civilians who had been captives.

Their rejoicing knew no bounds in St. Mihiel. As we passed up the roads we found them blocked with refugees and with war material captured by our soldiers.

"The consequences of the action against the Germans fully justify the hope of the great nations whose armies were engaged."

LLOYD GEORGE IMPROVING.

London, September 16.—Premier Lloyd-George, who suffered an attack of influenza, Thursday night, after an address at Manchester, spent a good night and his condition today was declared to be satisfactory.

The inflammation has gone from his throat, but there was a slight rise in his temperature tonight.

TWO AVIATORS ARE KILLED IN BROOKLYN

New York, Sept. 16.—Lieutenants Kenny, Covington, Ky., and E. H. Austin, Boston, U. S. A., were killed in Brooklyn today when the airplane in which they were flying over the city, fell and was smashed on the lawn adjoining a house on Ocean Avenue. Both men were dead when a physician living nearby was called.

HOIST OLD GLORY.

Paris, September 16.—From the top of the city hall the Stars and Stripes fluttered all today, having been hoisted by special order of the Municipal Council, in celebration of the American St. Mihiel victory.

A resolution adopted by the General Council of the Department of Seine says:

"The American democracy's invincible army triumphantly pursues the place of honor reserved for it."

THINK PEACE NOTE WILL STRENGTHEN ALLEGED PACIFISTS

Amsterdam, Sept. 16.—There is wide comment in the German press regarding Austria's peace efforts. The consensus of belief seems to be that the hands of the entente pacifists will be strengthened.

Berlin newspapers do not believe the proposal offers any practical possibilities, contenting themselves with declaring "the world at large will know now who prolongs the war and who wants to give the world peace."

MRS. M. T. HERRICK CALLED BY DEATH

Bar Harbor, Maine, Sept. 16.—Mrs. Myron T. Herrick, wife of the former United States Ambassador to France, died here yesterday after a lingering illness, the result of overwork in Paris during the days of the first German invasion.

Both the Ambassador and his wife worked incessantly for Americans as well as subjects of other countries.

Mrs. Herrick was 60 years old. Mr. Herrick, who was with her at the end, will take the body to their home in Cleveland, Ohio, for burial.

TWENTY THOUSAND MINERS ON STRIKE

Pottsville, Pa., Sept. 16.—In the face of the order and importunities of the mine workers union about twenty thousand mine-workers in the ninth district went on a strike this morning because the government has not granted them the increase in wages that they demanded.

Clergymen, business men and others pleaded with the men yesterday to patriotically remain at work.

President Matthews of the United Mine Workers labored until last night, trying to keep the men in line. The strike cuts off a daily production of about 200,000 tons.

LLOYD GEORGE IMPROVING.

London, September 16.—Premier Lloyd-George, who suffered an attack of influenza, Thursday night, after an address at Manchester, spent a good night and his condition today was declared to be satisfactory.

The inflammation has gone from his throat, but there was a slight rise in his temperature tonight.

GERMANS DIG IN

Far in the Rear

With the Americans on the Metz Front, Sept. 16.—Both American wings are reported to be straightening out and co-ordinating their positions across the late St. Mihiel salient. Our patrols now control the area between the American lines and the Hindenburg reserve defenses.

The Germans are digging in far to the rear, rather than attempting to dispute the American gains effectively.

AIR FIGHTING

BECOMES MORE BITTER EACH DAY

With the Americans on the Metz Front, Sept. 16.—The extremes of the new line, paralleling Hindenburg's are experiencing the bulk of the present activity. To the left of the Moselle, the boche attempted a raid Saturday night, as a result of which the Americans took six prisoners.

Late yesterday afternoon the enemy made a counter-attack in the same region, according to the British.

They were seen massing for the effort. The American artillery opened on them. They were cut to pieces before they could start.

The boche is doing considerable work in the rear of the Hindenburg line.

The operations in the past 24 hours, though small, have resulted in additional prisoners and material. While there is a comparative lull on the ground, aside from artillery firing, the battle in the air is becoming constantly more bitter.

The boche airmen are being reinforced and are becoming more daring. Although some have succeeded in crossing the allied line, not an enemy plane has been able to proceed more than five kilometers (about three miles) behind the line.

A great number of German machines were brought down in aerial battles yesterday. The enemy's observation balloons are also being constantly attacked and many have been destroyed.

British, Italian, and American bombing planes are busy in the rear areas, day and night.

Premier Clemenceau visited American headquarters yesterday and congratulated the staff.

In spite of the fact that the enemy burned large stores, examination of the battlefield shows that great quantities of ammunition, telegraph and railroad material, rolling-stock, clothing, and equipment, and abandoned bridges in the reconquered territory are uninjured. Airplane reconnaissance patrols report that the Hindenburg line appears to be in poor condition.

SWISS HOLD TWO YANKEE AVIATORS

Berne, Sept. 16.—The two American aviators, forced to descend, near Fahy, are being held by the Swiss, it was officially announced here today.

FIGHT TO "KNOCK OUT" EXPECTED TO BE THE ANSWER OF THE UNITED STATES TO AUSTRIA'S PEACE FEELER

Washington, Sept. 16.—The United States government will not accept Austria's proposal for a get-together-for-peace conference, it was stated on high authority today.

"It was declared to be 'perfectly safe to assume the proffer would not be approved.'

The state department had not received a copy of the Austrian note this afternoon and consequently withheld all formal comment.

Despite this silence, it developed that the Austrian proffer is not acceptable.

A confidential state department dispatch dated the 11th from an unnamed source, gave warning of Germany's great peace drive.

This message stated the allied diplomatic consensus of opinion was that the government sought to be ready in the next few weeks for the "most desperate" peace propaganda yet undertaken by the Teuton.

BY CARL D. GROAT

Washington, Sept. 16.—That the United States will spurn Austria's get-together-for-peace proposal appeared certain today.

This course will be followed by the entente governments, too, according to all indications here.

Taken as the most desperate peace offensive the boche ever attempted this latest drive is regarded also as the most insidious. It is considered as intended to dull the war spirit and the war work of the associated nations, particularly American and it is held to be another of the series of efforts to bolster up the Austro-German spirit.

When it is rejected, Germany and Austria will set up the cry of self-defense and as the war goes closer to the German border, this cry may serve to stimulate a wearied force of Central Allies, according to the belief here.

However in answering the communication—for it is assumed an answer must be made—the government will take care to see that the edge is removed from this home stimulation scheme, as far as possible.

This answer, it is held, will point out that Wilson has said frequently he was willing to talk peace any time if an "honest" proposal was made. This proposal was not considered honest. The answer too would probably inform Austria that the president's basic peace principle would have to be accepted before even a get-together session for discussing further basis could be undertaken.

Germany is considered the dictator of the Austrian note. Austria says she and her allies are in accord. It is held here to be doubtless true that Germany would like to strike the best possible bargain at this time to save the Hohenzollern rulers. But it is believed that the Teutons, or if they stage some sort of a come-back, they could leave the get-together conference.

Germany is considered the dictator of the Austrian note. Austria says she and her allies are in accord. It is held here to be doubtless true that Germany would like to strike the best possible bargain at this time to save the Hohenzollern rulers. But it is believed that the Teutons, or if they stage some sort of a come-back, they could leave the get-together conference.

Germany and Austria have shown no sign of accepting the cardinal principles, for they have practiced an exodus and indemnities, with a vengeance.

President Wilson's dictum of force without stint; and Chief of Staff March's "we are going through with it" talk Saturday, are held to be the surest proofs of the American spirit.

The most forceful argument heard here every time the Teuton has laid down a peace barrage has been:

CARDINAL FARLEY'S CONDITION CRITICAL

Mamaroneck, N. Y., Sept. 16.—Cardinal Farley, archbishop of the Catholic diocese of New York, was in a critical condition today at his summer home here following a relapse suffered yesterday when it was believed he was recovering from an attack of pneumonia. His condition early today was unchanged from last night, when Monsignor Carroll, secretary to the cardinal, reported it very critical.

H. E. STRAIN FALLS AT H. & A. MILL AND IS SERIOUSLY HURT

With blood flowing from a scalp wound in his forehead, H. E. Strain of South Detroit street, engineer at the Ohio mill of The Hooven and Allison company, was found unconscious on the cement floor of the motor engine room at the mill about 11 o'clock Sunday forenoon.

Revived by Dr. Paul Epsey who was called to the mill, Mr. Strain was unable to recall anything that would indicate the cause of the injury, but it is believed that he was thrown to the floor when the ladder on which he was standing for the purpose of working near the top of the big motor, slipped and fell to the floor.

Dr. Epsey found him to be suffering from concussion and a partial paralysis of the right leg. He is unable to say yet how serious the injury may be.

Dr. Strain was taken to his home on South Detroit street and while he has regained consciousness, no details of the accident have been recalled by him. He has a dim recollection of having placed the ladder in position so that he could get near the top of the motor.

The Ohio War Board Says Today

The most patriotic thing that any one can do right now is to use at most only two pounds of sugar a month and less if possible. Use as much as desired of honey, syrups, sorghum, molasses, maple products, dried and fresh.

A limited amount of sugar will be allowed the housewife for canning. Surplus fruits and vegetables should be preserved in some manner. Canning, drying, fermentation processes, are all to be encouraged. Fruit may be canned without sugar. Fruit juices may be bottled and saved for jelly-making until sugar is more plentiful. Other sweeteners besides sugar may be used in canning, jelly and jam making.

The Branch House Man

This is one of the Swift & Company Branch House Men.

They are all pretty much alike in the way they feel toward their work—and that is what this ad is about.

They know that most people couldn't get such good meat promptly and in good condition if it weren't for the branch houses of which they are in charge.

They know that the branch house is one of the most important links in the chain of preparing and distributing meat for a nation.

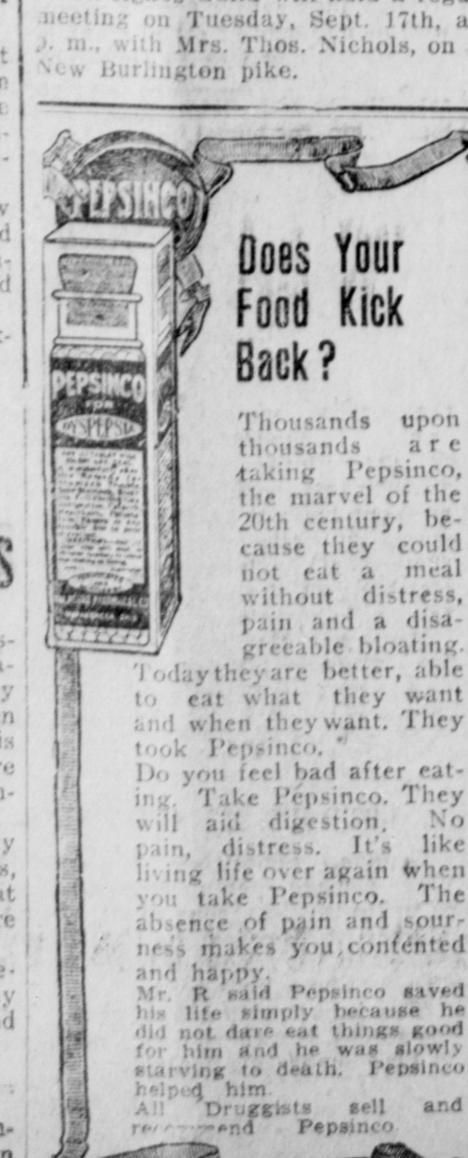

They know that Swift & Company must have its branch houses run at the highest notch of usefulness; that even a Swift & Company branch house won't run itself, and that it is up to the branch house man to run it properly.

Any branch house man who doesn't see his work in this light is transferred to some other place with Swift & Company to which he is better adapted.

They are picked men, these branch house men. Every time you sit down to a steak or chop, or cut of roast, you can give a grateful thought to the whole crew of them.

And remember, in a general way, that everything that makes life smoother and more convenient for you is the result of the thoughtfulness and effort of a lot of people of whom you have never heard.

THE MAKING OF A FAMOUS MEDICINE

How Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Is Prepared For Woman's Use.

A visit to the laboratory where this successful remedy is made impresses even the casual looker-on with the reliability, accuracy, skill and cleanliness which attends the making of this great medicine for woman's ills.

Over 350,000 pounds of various herbs are used annually and all have to be gathered at the season of the year when their natural juices and medicinal substances are at their best.

The most successful solvents are used to extract the medicinal properties from these herbs.

Every utensil and tank that comes in contact with the medicine is sterilized and as a final precaution in cleanliness the medicine is pasteurized and sealed in sterile bottles.

It is the wonderful combination of roots and herbs, together with the skill and care used in its preparation which has made this famous medicine so successful in the treatment of female ills.

The letters from women who have been restored to health by the use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound which we are continually publishing attest to its virtue.

GREAT VICTORY BY OUR AMERICAN BOYS.

For four years the Huns had things pretty nearly all their own way. They had been preparing for this war for a whole generation and they could strike with a power which represented a well nigh irresistible accumulated energy. The wonder is that their neighbors, who were very ill prepared, could hold them as well as they did for four years. A little more and they would have won the war. Kaiserism would have survived if the nations that were attacked had not risen in righteous indignation and determined to repel the Hun menace. The Lord helps those who help themselves. The world would have deserved all it got if it had yielded to the supine pacifist doctrine and allowed the Huns to carry out their schemes of conquest and subjugation.

But now the Allies are asserting their latent power. The tide has turned. This is the Allies' year, and if we continue to "carry on" as the war phase is, we are going to win a victory that will pay for and justify all the loss and suffering that has been imposed on humanity by this diabolical Hun plot.

The history of the war from July 15 is one splendid "continued story" of practically uninterrupted successes for the Allies, not only on the French front but on the war front as a whole. The Huns are still continuing their retreat, which one of their leading experts characterizes in the Berlin Tagblatt as a "strategic masterpiece that commands admiration." However, if the situation suits the Huns, it suits the Allies better, and "cursed be he who first cries hold enough."

The total net results of the victories which began with July 15th will perhaps not be compiled till the complete history of the war comes to be written in later years. In August the British took over 57,000 prisoners, and the French in six weeks from July 15 took 76,000. Up to September 1st, a total of about 140,000 prisoners had been counted.

Of course the great victory of the Americans under General Pershing, in the last few days, has thrilled the people of this country as nothing else had done since the war began. In all the other battles we won only hypemated with the French or English, but in the great battles of Thursday and Friday last, in clearing the St. Mihiel salient, the Americans appear to have been going it alone, and they certainly "went over the top." On the second day of their great offensive on the Lorraine front the Americans succeeded in blotting out German positions that had been a menace for four years. This salient was one of the strongest and most vital points on the whole front—the Germans had been fortifying it for years.

In less than thirty-six hours, General Pershing's first American Army had wiped out the entire St. Mihiel salient, had advanced thirteen miles, 155 square miles of territory, had taken over twenty thousand prisoners and 100 big guns. In addition, this advance opened the important railway from Verdun. All the villages in the St. Mihiel salient were captured by the Americans, and the front of the sector reduced from 40 to 20 miles. One dispatch says: "Along one of the high roads in the rear of our new front north of St. Mihiel we passed three miles of German prisoners under American guards, striding rearward four abreast. French auxiliary workers behind the line stopped in their labors and lined up along the roadside cheering the Americans."

Every American entering the villages experienced the same reception as that given to Secretary of War Baker. Aged men and women seized and kissed the hands of the officers and correspondents, crying and laughing, the children imitating their elders.

All the London papers give unstinted praise to the Americans for their great victory over the Huns. The Times said: "For all the Allied nations the deep interest in the American victory lies not so much in its results, which are substantial and valuable, but in the fact that a great American force has gone into battle acting separately. The German nation now will begin to realize, as it never yet has done, the overwhelming and decisive character of the new factor which is emerging in the war. More was destroyed at St. Mihiel than a German salient. General Pershing shattered at a blow the monstrous web of lies which sustained the pretense that the immense weight and almost unlimited resources of the United States would be of little or no account on the European field of war. He has shown that the Americans are as quick and apt to learn the art of war as they have been to develop the pursuits of peace."

This last drive brings "our boys" within ten miles of the fortified city of Metz, on German Lorraine, (stolen from France thirty years ago.) Now the prospect is that if the Allies keep "carrying on," as they have been lately, that we will soon be on Germany's own soil, devastating it, and giving them a taste of what they have so ruthlessly given Belgium and France.

For the recent victory for Liberty by the Americans let us fervently "praise God from whom all blessings flow."

'THE WIFE'

BY JANE PHELPS

RUTH IS DISTURBED BECAUSE OF MRS. CURTIS'S CHATTER

CHAPTER XXXVII,

Ruth's luncheon with Mrs. Curtis had a very upsetting effect upon her. All the afternoon her careless remarks recurred, making Ruth rather absent minded; so much so that La Monte wondered if her husband had been unpleasant because of her absence. For, while not at all intending to do so, Ruth had given both Mr. Mandel and his clerk an impression that Brian objected to her being in the shop.

So it was known and talked of, already—she thought bitterly.

Ruth wished that Brian hadn't taken Mollie to dinner. Of course she couldn't say so, couldn't object to what he did when she was away. But it was rather disconcerting to be told of how intimate he used to be with this Mollie King. Ruth had to own to herself that Mollie was attractive. "Fascinating!" Mrs. Curtis had called her. She would watch Brian closely if Mrs. Curtis did give a dinner and asked them. She would also watch Mollie King.

"A penny for your thoughts, Mrs. Hackett!" Mr. Mandel stood at her elbow, smiling down on her. "I have stood here for ten minutes, and you haven't moved a muscle."

"Oh, excuse me, Mr. Mandel!" Ruth flushed with embarrassment as she took the papers he had brought her, plans he had brought her, plans for the redecoration of the Philadelphia house.

"Thinking of that new apartment you told me you were going to take he asked with a quizzical smile.

"No—but I really am going to move, and I haven't half thanked you for the lovely things you said I might have to help make it attractive," she returned with more fulsome ness in her manner than she usually displayed. She had been glad he spoke of the apartment, that he had said no more about what she was thinking. She was not accustomed to hiding her feelings. She must learn to do so, or else to concentrate on her work that even what Brian had done, or might do, could not take her thoughts from it.

"Mr. Mandel said no more, save about the work in hand. For half an hour they discussed the lovely old house they were to "make over inside," as he expressed it; and when he left her with the plans nearly ready for her to work up the color scheme, Ruth really had forgotten all about what Mrs. Curtis had said—had even forgotten there was such a person as Mollie King.

But she recalled her again at dinner when she told Brian of meeting Mrs. Curtis.

"She is going to ask us to dinner, and she also said she was going to ask that nice Miss King you took out to dinner while I was away. I told her we would be glad to come. I hope I am rather jolly people, and they also did right."

"Of course we'll go! The Curtises have a very good cook. Curtis is pretty well fixed," he added, flushing a little as he always did when money was the subject.

Ruth started to repeat what Mrs. Curtis had said concerning a woman who worked, and a husband's attitude because of it; then caught herself. Brian was already more than a little sensitive on the subject.

SCHOOLS ORGANIZE TO SELL STAMPS

County Supt. F. M. Reynolds reports that the county schools are just getting organized for the autumn drive on Thrift Stamp sales. He says he will be able to furnish a complete report of the sales through the schools of the county by the close of next week.

Prof. Reynolds says: "Every teacher in the county is requested to get the work going at once and make a report to her District or Local Superintendent on next Friday evening. This report should show the total sales to date that is both for last year and this."

The Ross Township Centralized School was the first system of schools in the county to report 100 per cent efficiency in this work. Great credit is due Supt. M. Jay Ellis and his corps of teachers for putting this across as they have. Each pupil in that system of schools owns a card with one or more stamps in it. Each pupil and teacher in the high school owns a card with five or more stamps in it. The Grammar room of this school, taught by Loren Rogers, reached the 100 per cent limit about a week ago.

"College Hill school in Silvercreek township, taught by H. R. Zartman, was the first one roomed rural school to report 100 per cent efficiency. Many others are very close to it."

The Superintendents and teachers of the county have set October 19, as the limit at which they hope to have all the schools of the county 100 per cent efficient. This means hard work and the hearty co-operation of the parents in this patriotic work."

OF INTEREST TO TAX PAYERS

In order that those who have income and profits taxes to pay may prepare themselves in advance for these large payments and accumulate gradually the funds necessary to meet them, an issue of 4 per cent treasury certificates of indebtedness maturing July 15, 1919, is offered for subscription.

These certificates will be accepted at par with an adjustment of accrued interest in payment of income and profits taxes when payable at or before the maturity of the certificates, and if the purchaser does not have occasion to use them in that manner, they will be paid in cash at maturity with interest.

A certificate may be purchased at any Federal Reserve Bank or through your own bank or trust company.

OPENING EXERCISES AT ANTIOCH TO BE OF PATRIOTIC NATURE

The opening of Antioch College's fall term, Wednesday, September 18, will be of a patriotic nature, in harmony with the new military program of the school.

Flag raising exercises will be held Wednesday morning, beginning at 10:00 o'clock, and will be followed by a community dinner on the campus.

Dr. Hough Houston, pastor of the Central Methodist Church, Springfield, will deliver the principal address and Gen. Keifer, formerly a student at Antioch, and later member of the Board of Trustees, will talk.

A sixteen piece military band from the Aviation Supply Depot at Fairfield, will furnish appropriate music, and it is probable that they will be accompanied by a detachment of soldiers from that camp.

The ladies of Yellow Springs have arranged to have the soldiers and the prospective members of the Student Army Training Corps as their guests at the community dinner on the campus. A general invitation is extended to bring lunch baskets and attend the opening exercises and the picnic which will follow.

Although enrollment does not generally take place until after the opening of the scholastic year, many young men have already signified their intention of taking advantage of the unusual opportunities afforded by the Student Army Training Corps.

Antioch's equipment affords an ideal spot to train the young soldiers who will be voluntarily inducted into the Corps. With no expense, and the regular compensation of a soldier in the service of the nation, any one who can pass the physical and mental requirements has the opportunity to go to college at government expense.

A portion of the soldier's time is to be given to college work and the remainer to the regular duties of a soldier. Men must pass army physical requirements and must have a high school education or its equal.

Speaking of The Student Army Training Corps, the new military branch of the college, Dr. George D. Black, President of Antioch says:

"The government is urgent that young men should go to college, and get as much work done as is possible before they are called into active service."

"One especial purpose of this utilization of the college is to find men who are fit to be officers and technicians, to find men who are qualified by education and training to make a virile, aggressive man power."

"This movement is a mighty one and should receive the support of all patriots. It is a call to the colleges to put their strength into the equipment of a man power that will crush, or help crush, the wickedest conspiracy that ever was aimed against humanity."

"We must remember that the supreme interest in this movement in the colleges is the need of the nation. It is to build up a mighty army."

Enrollment in the Training Corps will begin Wednesday and induction into the service will take place the latter part of this month. Officers and equipment will be supplied to the college October 1st.

FESS SOUNDS WARNING AGAINST GERMAN PEACE

Warning against a peace that will leave Germany's military machine intact was voiced in the House, Saturday, by Representative Fess, of Ohio, Republican, who declared "we must not stop until Germany takes her heel off the liberties of the world, wherever it is."

The kindness of the American heart is to be feared, he said, adding that his words were "without criticism of anyone."

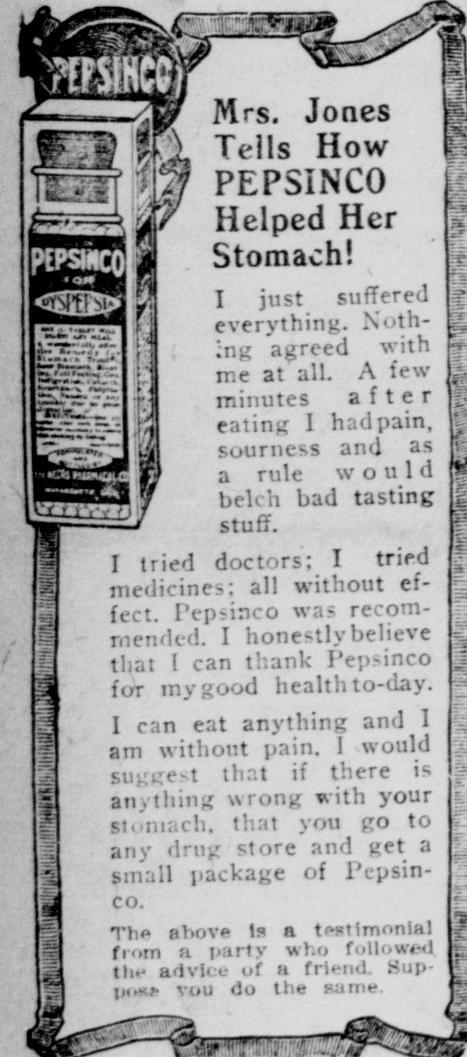

"Four peace proposals have been made by the Central Powers in the last four weeks," said Mr. Fess. "Germany, I fear, seeing her borders about to be invaded and to save herself from internal revolution, will throw herself on the mercy of the allies. My fear is that we, in our desire for fairness and out of kindness of heart, might be willing to accept a condition that will not reduce this autocracy."

Old Story Disproved.

Most persons know the story told of Cleopatra, to illustrate her luxurious habits of living, that she dissolved in her wine a precious pearl. No one seems yet to have questioned what must have been the effect upon the drink, but scientists scoff at the possibility of such solution. The fact is pearls are not soluble in wine. The most powerful vinegar affects them slowly and never entirely dissolves them, for the organic matter remains behind in the shape of a spongy mass that is larger than the original pearl.

I tried doctors; I tried medicines; all without effect. Pepsinco was recommended. I honestly believe that I can thank Pepsinco for my good health-to-day. I can eat anything and I am without pain. I would suggest that if there is anything wrong with your stomach, that you go to any drug store and get a small package of Pepsinco.

The above is a testimonial from a party who followed the advice of a friend. Suppose you do the same.

MILLER'S ANTISEPTIC OIL, KNOWN AS Snake Oil

PETEY DINK

FOLKS AT HOME TO HAVE CHANCE TO PROVE LOYALTY

Every day the newspapers tell of some one or another of the Yanks having been awarded the cross of war for conspicuous bravery in action. Every day these same dispatches carry the story of some intrepid charge against the enemy trenches, the storming of some machine gun nest, the taking of another town or two in desperate hand to hand fighting. And our hearts swell with pride that it is so.

Equally appropriate of their prowess are the allied leaders. You have shown yourself to be worthy sons of your great country and have gained the admiration of your brothers in arms," declared General Mangin the other day in an official order thanking the Yanks for their part in the last great thrust against the Huns.

General Mangin voiced the sentiments of the entire membership of the allied general staff. For the Yanks have made good with a vengeance.

We are wholly justified in being proud of them. We can look the whole world in the eye, knowing they rank with the finest. We can justly feel again that the traditions of American arms have been upheld; that in the eyes of the world America no longer stands accused of pacifism at the cost of honor; of meek submission to the ruthless arrogance of any people drunk with power.

Once more we may hold up our hands, square our shoulders, take a reef in our trousers and intimate to the world at large that it's a dangerous pastime to tread upon the tail of our coat.

Thanks to the khaki clad Yanks. And shortly we are to have an opportunity to prove just how much we value our new-found standing in the eyes of the world. To repay, indirectly, these restorers of our national self-respect.

Had Bad Headaches—Always Tired, Na Appetite—Vinol Made Her Well

Bainbridge, N. Y.—"My little daughter, 13 years old, overworked and was rundown, tired all the time, nervous, had headaches, couldn't eat and had to stay out of school. Vinol has built her up. She has a good appetite, no more headaches and has returned to school again!"—Mrs. Lester Andrews.

There is no secret about Vinol. It owes its success to beef and cod liver peptones, iron and manganese peptones and glycerophosphates, the oldest and most famous body building and strength creating tonics. Sayre & Hemphill, and druggists everywhere.
